DAYALPUR SEXUAL ASSAULT | AUTOPSY REVEALS

'9-year-old's death caused by accused kneeling on chest'

Karn Pratap Singh

karn.singh@hindustantimes.com

NEW DELHI: The preliminary autopsy report of a nine-year-old girl who was sexually assaulted and murdered in Dayalpur on Saturday has revealed details of brutality, with the cause of death attributed to internal bleeding due to "excessive compression" on her chest and abdomen – likely due to the accused pressing down on her with his knees, investigators aware of report said.

It also noted multiple bite marks on her lips, neck, and chest, along with genital bleeding indicating sexual assault and internal injuries consistent with violent restraint, the officer said.

"...'a combined effect of cardiac tamponade and haemorrhagic shock due to blunt force trauma to the chest and abdomen'...has been written as the exact cause of the girl in the autopsy report," the officer said, citing the report of the autopsy conducted at a government hospital.

A senior emergency department leading to haemorrhagic shock.

The grisly crime, which led to widespread protests by locals in the northeast Delhi locality, unfolded last Saturday evening around 7pm when the Class 5 student left her home to deliver ice to a relative. The accused, residing on the second floor of a building, allegedly lured her into his flat under the pretext of returning keys he claimed he had dropped. Once inside, he sexually assaulted her, and when she resisted and screamed, he pinned her down, placing his knees on her torso with such force that it crushed her internal organs. The assailant then stuffed her lifeless body into a suitcase, which was later discovered by her family members.

On Tuesday, police finally tracked the suspect to Hapur, Uttar Pradesh, and arrested him. During transit back to Delhi, the accused attempted an escape in Welcome's Jheel Park area and attacked a constable with a concealed blade before being shot in the leg by a cop. The accused is currently hospitalised under police guard.
